There is an old saying, "A half a loaf is better than none at all," and this applies to the recent elections held in twelve different counties as to whether liquor should be sold or not. Nine of the twelve decided that it could not be sold and while we would have been glad if all of the counties had voted against the selling of liquor yet we are thankful that as many went dry as did. Two of the counties that voted dry were Clark and Montgomery. The next move of the dry workers is for State Wide Prohibition and then all of Kentucky will be dry. As it is 107 out of 120 counties are Local Option Counties. The Temperance wave is sweeping over the country so fast that it will be only a short time till the Government will put an end to its sale and manufacture.

Miss Esther Broad who was a former teacher here has left her home in Buffalo and is attending the Bible Teachers Training School in New York City. Her address will be 541 Lexington Ave. Miss Broad left a host of friends here who will be glad to remember her.

No Survey Made For County Bridge

Department Engineers Are Very Busy, And Have Been Unable to Come Here.

The Department of Public Roads at Frankfort is evidently very busy. The new road law provides that the State authorities must make the surveys and furnish plans and specifications for all bridges that the various counties of the State build where the cost will exceed $500. The engineers of the department are so busy that they have yet been unable to make the survey of the Hammons' ford bridge in this county which the Fiscal Court intended contracting for at its regular October meeting which comes up next week.

J. M. Ross, one of the State engineers working in this part of the State, notified the authorities that he would be in the county Tuesday to make this survey provided the work could be done between trains. As this could not be done, he had to defer coming to Powell county until some later date.

Clark County Will Be Dry

Neighbor of Powell Goes Dry in Local Option Election by Majority of 336.

After a very keenly contested election held on Monday last, Clark County voted to go "dry", and it is expected that within sixty days there will be no more liquor offered for sale in Winchester. A special election was held in North Winchester precinct, where all the saloons are located, and a big majority for the "wets" was rolled up. It is expected that the saloon men will contest the election on this account.

The majority rolled up by the "wets" in the city was only 249, while the "drys" carried the county by 385, leaving them a total majority of 336.

In the North Winchester precinct, where the "wets" held a special election, the vote was for the "wets", 288, and for the "drys", 44, a majority of 244.

The law goes into effect sixty days after being voted on, and, unless the contest of the saloon men is sustained in the courts they will cease business at that time.

DYNAMITING THE RIVER.

The Government has quite a large crew of men at work on Kentucky River at and near Beattyville blowing out snags and other objects that would be in the way when they get slack water to this city. For several days past they have been dynamiting the guard wall of the old dam in the lower part of Beattyville. It is understood that in the near future they will take out the old dam. Beattyville Enterprise.

Mr. M. A. Phillips and Ben Throckmorton took a pleasure and business trip to Mt. Sterling and Frenchburg a few days ago.

The spelling bee held between Bert Crow's school and the other school resulted in a tie. They spelled clear through the old Blue Back spelling book and several were standing on the floor when they finished. This shows fine work on the part of the scholars of these schools.

Mrs. J. C. Hanley and Mrs. Effie Smith had company this week but the writer failed to remember the names.

The farmers here are busy making sorghum and stripping their fodder and getting ready to cut their corn.

LARGE STALK.

W. G. Devary raised on the farm of Bedford & Tuttle one of the best crops of tobacco ever seen in the Blue Grass. A sample stalk brought to Winchester and weighed a few days after cutting, tipped the scales at eight pounds. An ear of corn weighed two pounds. There is nothing in this talk of hard times and short crops.—Winchester Democrat.

L. & N. Replacing Bridge Over River

Several Other Improvements Are Being Contemplated On This Division of Railroad.

The L. & N. Railroad is putting in a much heavier bridge than the present one at the river crossing in the east end of town. The bridge at Stanton has also been replaced by a much stronger one. It doesn't look much like the L. & N. was fixing to abandon the L. & N. upon the completion of the new Irvine road as some pessimists have claimed. The road has greatly improved its track, and its train services. Every move the road makes indicates that it intends to make improvements of the L. & E. line, rather than let the service dwindle.

With all these improvements made, however, there is still room for more and we hope to see them soon forthcoming.

Three Indicted In Clark County

Prominent Men Before Grand Jury
For Alleged Election Offenses in Local Option Election.

Jailer J. S. Mullins, Wm. Hughes and Yancey Merritt were indicted by the Clark county grand jury which is now in session at Winchester, late Wednesday afternoon, on a charge of conspiracy in unlawfully inducing Millard Allen to vote in Monday's local option election.

Mr. Hughes is one of the most prominent saloon men in Winchester, and Yancey Merritt was leader of the organization for the saloon men. Allen had been confined to jail for some time for a breach of the liquor laws, and was serving his sentence at the time he was alleged to have voted. Jailer Mullins claims that Allen was a trusty with a certain amount of liberty, and that he slipped away and voted without his knowledge. The other men indicted deny any knowledge of the affair.

Lexington Man Secures Control Of Breathitt County Paper, and Will Take Charge at Once.

Capt. J. L. McCoy, one of the most prominent Republicans in Eastern Kentucky, has purchased the half interest of John T. Hindman in the Jackson Times, and has leased the other half which was owned by Ryland C. Musick. Mr. McCoy will take possession at once, and for the present will conduct the paper as an independent sheet.

Capt. McCoy was for sixteen years a Deputy Revenue Collector under the Republican administration, and is a great worker for his party. He is well known throughout Breathitt county, and the paper should do well under his management.

Long Tobacco.

Frank Leonard says he measured a leaf of his tobacco the other day and it was fifty-three inches long and proportionately wide. This is some tobacco. The farmers are having great difficulty in housing, as the leaves and stalks are a third longer than usual. Glave Goddard said he has to "quarter" his leaves on account of their immensity.—Harrodsburg Leader.

Sorghum Crop Looks Promising

Mize's Gem, a Powell County Product,
Is Showing Good Results
This Year.

The sorghum season is now on, and farmers all over the county are enjoying "sorghum and batter cakes" to their heart's content. The crop this year promises to be one of the largest in years, and a large acreage of it was planted in the spring.

One of the best varieties of the cane that is grown anywhere was developed in Powell county, and is known as Mize's Gem. It was produced by John W. Mize, of Vaughn's Mill, one of the most prominent farmers in the county, and was put on the market by him two years ago, at which time it was advertised in The Times, and since then it has become very popular. It grows to a height of from twelve to fifteen feet, and is very succulent, and produces a large amount of syrup. Mr. Mize has received many compliments on the success of his product, particularly by those who were fortunate enough to put in a crop of this kind.

Has Your Farm a Suitable Name

The Value of Your Land Can Be Greatly Increased by Making
Your Place Keep To Its Name.

An exchange that makes a specialty of farm suggestions, and of promoting anything that may be of interest or benefit to the farming community, has the following comment on the naming of farms, which in some counties is very much followed, and which is of great benefit to many ways:

"Give the farm a name and keep the farm up to the name. A name gives distinction, it is an expression of honest pride, it shows an interest in the place. It means something more than so many acres of brown earth, a dwelling and barns. It means a place that one feels is in the best sense the home of himself and his family. Sentiment gathers around it and crystallizes so that at last the owner does not so much ask in declining years, 'How much can I get for my farm?' but, 'Who is going to succeed me on it?' And that means a deepening and strengthening of home ties and those of locality, both of which are greatly needed in America's rural life.

"But for practical reasons as well as sentimental it is wise to bestow a name upon the farm and then keep the farm in good condition.

The sense of pride would prompt my man to do his level best.

That would mean better cultivation, house and barn painted, fences in good condition, better stock and better crops, and more attractive appearance within and without the dwelling. There is scarcely a farm, however situated, that some appropriate name may not be given it. Landscape, a spring, clump of trees, position, historic associations are among the many things that may suggest the name. And always remember this, that it is with the farmer more than anyone else, rests the solution of the problem of arresting the drift city-wards. An attractive home, a home that has a distinctive name about it, goes a long way towards the solution.

Nine Counties Gained For "Drys"

Only Three of Twelve County In Which Votes Is Taken Remain
"Wet."

As a result of the Local Option elections all over the state Monday nine more counties were added to the dry list and three counties, where elections was held, remained wet. The Counties going dry were: Clark, Bourbon, Scott, Bell, Mason, Montgomery and Shelby. Those going wet were: Fayette, Henderson and Anderson.

In the counties voting dry all the majorities were exceedingly large, especially Bell, which is in the lead. The drys also received large majorities in Shelby, Bourbon, and Scott counties.

Probably the closest election held was in Anderson county where it was reported that the county went wet by the small majority of sixty-four.

In Fayette there has been no doubt as to the outcome of the election and the only question has been as to how large the majority in favor of open saloons would be. The vote for the saloons in the city almost doubled that of the drys but in the county the result was much closer.

The results in the various counties was declared to be as follows: Bourbon County Dry by 405, Scott Dry by 413, Bell Dry by 800, Mason Dry by 330, Montgomery Dry by 291, Shelby dry by 500. The total majority in favor of the wets in Lexington and Fayette County was three thousand two hundred and sixty-four. In the city the majority for the saloons was 2955 and in the county 319, Anderson county went wet by only sixty-four votes.

After the quietest election in Carroll county history the "dry" won out by a majority of 517.

Henderson county went wet with a landslide. The entire county gives 1,053 majority for the wets. The city of Henderson gave the wets 977 majority. The wets even carried the county outside of Henderson, which was supposed to be a dry stronghold.

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES.

There is a tendency on the part of some dealers and manufacturers to make a boast of their opposition to advertising says Maurice Switzer writing in Leslie's magazine. The stock argument in all such cases is that they put their money into goods and not into the newspapers or posters. They pose as the sole survivors of the altruist in business and darkly hint at the villainy behind the great enterprise whose single motive is to hoodwink the public.

There are no altruists in business; if they are they don't stay there long. When they have money enough they get out of trade and found philanthropic institutions, and if they have not enough money they go broke.

Twenty-five or fifty years ago a standard bar of soap sold for 5 cents. Today the soap makers are among the largest advertisers, and a standard bar of soap it still 5 cents. It is better soap today than it was a quarter or a half century ago. Modern chemistry and economic production through the means of ingenious mechanical devices have been responsible for the improvement of quality and the increased output. Advertising has disposed of the surplus, and while the profits are less today, the maker sells infinitely more and so the problems of quality and price are solved.

The representative for an advertised product finds it easier to sell his wares than does the salesman for the house that uses no publicity, and so the basis evolutions of the former are usually less than those of the latter. This does not mean, however, that the specialty salesman always makes less money. As his line is easier to sell, his total sales are large, so if his pay is based upon his yearly business, his income may be much larger than the pay of the salesman whose work is harder but whose annual sales are less.

The result of this condition is, however, that the advertiser can "travel" men for less money than can the house which does no advertising. If this is true, it is but another and a strong argument in favor of the advertised product. It proves that the one large item of sales expense is lowered by the use of publicity; it is evidence that wherever the advertising had added to the cost of doing business, a proportionate or a greater reduction is found in another direction.

100,000 ILLITERATE VOTERS

IN KENTUCKY.

(Elizabethtown News.)

The United States census for 1910 shows that there are 212,000 adults in Kentucky who cannot read and write. It is safe to say that there are 100,000 illiterate voters, or that one man in five, has to have his ballot marked by the officers of the election and that all the knowledge he has about the election and how he should vote he has to have told him by some one who can read and write. This is a most deplorable condition for these people; it is also deplorable for the State. Fortunately, a movement has been started to educate in the rudimentary branches all adult illiterate. There is a great work going on in Kentucky this year through the moonlight schools, brought about by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, who is the chairman of the Adult Illiteracy Commission. No greater work has ever been undertaken in the State. It is disinterested, self-sacrificing and noble. The school teachers throughout the State are responding splendidly and are volunteering by the thousands to teach moonlight schools. In Grayson county last week 101 teachers volunteered in response to a personal appeal by Mrs. Stewart at the Teachers Institute. It is estimated that 40,000 of these adults are now in attendance upon moonlight schools. The work should not be half done, but wholly done. Most of these people who did not have the opportunity to attend school when they were children, learn to read and write in a few weeks. Everybody should be interested in this work and have a part in it. We increase the opportunities of people to make a living by teaching them to read and write. It will decrease crime and pauperism. It has already resulted in making many of them who have already learned to read the Bible Christians. It will vastly improve the intelligence of the franchise and I will remove a stain upon the fair name of the State. No newspaper in Kentucky can afford to be silent on this subject or give it half-hearted support. Let the press get behind Mrs. Stewart unanimously and enthusiastically and keep the ball rolling until every adult illiterate in Kentucky shall have had a fair chance to learn to read and write.

All bids must be in Saturday for the "Auction Stove" at Williams.

Curtis Bowman is turning out some of his splendid sorghum as he is accustomed to doing at this season of the year. With Mize's Gem cane to work Mr. Bowman can certainly "beat the heater" when it comes to making cane syrup.

Elder Paul Derthick, of Stanton, the East Kentucky Sunday School organizer, visited our Sunday School Sunday afternoon and gave us a good talk. He visited the Sunday School at Kimbrell in the forenoon. Bro. Derthick is always a welcome visitor in our Sunday Schools.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

LOCAL ITEMS

Dorie Wood, a former Clay City boy, rode in Sunday morning on his splendid motorcycle from Winchester.

Monday is county court day at Stanton and Fiscal Court meets on Tuesday and will continue in session until the usual routine of claims are passed upon.

Cas P. Goff drove a large bunch of feeders from Powell county Tuesday. This only one of a number of large droves of cattle that leave this county every week.

I. N. Berry, the West Bend pop man, who has recently located his plant in Beattyville, spent Monday night in Clay City. Mr. Berry says his business is good at Beattyville and speaks of this adopted town in the highest terms.

At least one hundred people from Powell county, we believe, attended county court at Winchester Monday, most of whom did more or less business in the live stock line, or with Winchester's wide-a-wake merchants that have been carrying advertisements in the Times.

The dry people of Powell county congratulate the successes in our neighboring counties of Clark and Montgomery. If these good counties have the experience that Powell county has had with local option they will never again have a licensed saloon in either county. These counties going dry will greatly improve the situation in this county. May the good work extend in the future as it has in the past.

The cool nights this week crowded many persons out early looking for frost but so far they have been unable to find any. "It seems to take colder weather to bring frost in the fall than in the Spring," some say. The average date for killing frosts in Kentucky is Oct. 20, and it is hoped that it will not appear this year before the average date. After killing frosts most people have to begin feeding, as their pasture consists mostly of Japanese clover which is killed by ordinary freezing weather. Some few farmers of the county however, have plenty of timothy, reed top, or bluegrass, but most of them depend on Japanese clover for their fall grazing, and there is nothing better so long as it lasts.

All bids must be in Saturday for the "Auction Stove" at Williams.

YOUR FALL COLD NEEDS ATTENTION

No use to fuss and try to wear it out. It will wear you out instead. Take Dr. King's New Discovery, relief follows quickly. It checks you. Cough and soothes your Cough away. Pleasant, Antiseptic and Healing. Children like it. Get a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and keep it in the house. "Our family Cough and Cold Doctor" writes Lewis Chamberlain, Manchester, Ohio. Money back if not satisfied, but it nearly always helps.
